

Washington — (NEA) — Questions are pouring in on Washington about changes in the Social Security law, just passed by Congress. Main drift of the question is: What can I get out of it? How do I go about getting it? When do I get it? How much does it cost me?

There are 480 local Social Security offices scattered about the United States. Look in your telephone book to see if there's one in your town. It should be listed as "Social Security Field Office." Or it should be so listed under "U. S. Government."

If there is no Social Security Field Office in your city, ask at your local post office for the office or the closest place where you can get information. Your local Post Office will also have available application blanks for Social Security cards and numbers.

If you are eligible for Social Security benefits and if you don't have a card and number, apply for one. If you once had a card and lost it, apply for a duplicate. If you were once employed on a job covered by Social Security, then changed to a job not covered, and are now eligible for coverage under the law, make sure that you still have your old card, or apply for a duplicate. It is important to you that you get the same number that you had before.

The 3 million people who are now receiving Old Age and Survivor's Insurance benefits won't have to do anything to get the new, higher benefits which will be payable after Sept. 1.

World War II Veterans Given Wage Credits

One class eligible to receive new benefits after Sept. 1 will include some 750,000 people who did not have sufficient insured time under the old law, who will have sufficient employed time to qualify under the liberalized provisions of the new law.

Under the new law, anyone 65 years old is eligible for benefits if he has worked in an industry covered by Social Security insurance for six consecutive quarter-years (a total of a year and a half—between 1935 and Sept. 1, 1950); and if his earnings averaged $50 a month in these six quarters.

In making this calculation, World War II veterans will be given Social Security wage credits for the time spent in service at the rate of $100 a month, unless this calculation is used for credit under any other government pension system.

Social Security Field Offices want to hear from any of these people now made eligible for benefits, so that they can file claims.

In addition to these starts for old cases, there will be an estimated 9,700,000 people formerly not under the law at all, who may make new starts. Included will be the following groups:

New groups Who May Benefit
1. non-farm, self-employed people, 4,700,000. Doctors of all sorts, veterinarians, funeral directors, lawyers, accountants, professional engineers and architects are excluded.

2. State and local government employees, 1,450,000. Their States must elect to come in under the Federal Social Security system.

3. Regularly employed, non-farm domestic workers, 1 million. They must work 24 days or more every three months (two days a week) for the same employer and must earn over $50 cash wages per month.

4. Agricultural processing workers (canners, etc.) 200,000.

5. Regularly employed farm workers, 650,000. They must work 60 full days and earn $50 or more per month cash wages for three months, provided they had continuous employment with the same employer during the previous three-month period.

6. Employees of non-profit institutions, 600,000. Two-thirds of the employees of each institution and their employer must elect to take out coverage.

7. Federal government employees not covered by another pension system, 200,000.

8. Americans employed by American employers outside the U. S., 150,000.

9. Employment in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, 400,000.

10. Full-time wholesale salesmen, full-time life insurance salesmen, agent-drivers and commission-drivers distributing meat, fruit, vegetables, bakery products, laundry and dry cleaning, beverages other than milk, $50,000.

11. Industrial home workers earning at least $50 a quarter, if their work is subject to regulation by State law. There is no estimate on how many of these home workers there might be.

These are the ABC's of the new Social Security law, in simplest terms.

Young Girl Believed to Be Polio Victim

Little Donna Solister, 2½ year old daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. William Solister, was taken to Army and Navy Hospital in Hot Springs last night where she is undergoing treatment for polio.

It is believed that she has the disease in a very light case. The Solisters have lived in Hope over a year and Sgt. Solister is connected with the local organized reserve corps.

3 Hurricanes Threaten the Florida Coast

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4 — (AP) — Three hurricanes, one with winds up to 150 miles an hour, splotched the weather map today.

One skirted the Florida west coast and offered a potential threat to the Apalachee bay area, due south of Tallahassee, after bypassing the tourist cities of Fort Myers, Sarasota and St. Petersburg.

The center was 50 miles southwest of Sarasota and well off shore at midnight.

Another hurricane which backtracked after bypassing Bermuda turned northward again and headed out to sea in the Atlantic without causing any damage to the island resort.

A third disturbance, described by the Miami weather bureau as a "severe hurricane," was about 1,000 miles east southeast of Miami, moving northwest or north about seven or eight miles an hour. It packed winds up to 130 miles an hour near the center and hurricane force winds (75 miles an hour or more) extended outward for 60 miles, with gales extending 150 miles from the center.

The "baby hurricane" in the gulf thrashed Key West Sunday morning, shredding shrubbery and toppling trees before swirling northwestward off Fort Myers.

"It was a sharp blow but not much of a hurricane," said Norman Artman, editor of the Key West Citizen.

Artman reported trees and wires down but no structural damage. A navy barge blew ashore but the navy's big ships and submarines put out to sea and rode out the storm. Patrol blimps were flown to Birmingham and planes to the Ford and Mercury and Lincoln — was not stated.

The wind reached 65 miles an hour in gusts at Miami, where business houses boarded up and boats paraded up the Miami river to safety.

Club Women Return From State Meet

The twenty seven home demonstration club women who attended the 22nd annual meeting of the Arkansas Council of Home Demonstration Clubs at Fayetteville and made the tour of north Arkansas from August 29-September 1 returned to Hope Friday night.

At the State Council meeting Mrs. B. J. Warriner, Route 1, Blevins, President of the Hempstead County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs, made a report on the program of home demonstration club work in Hempstead County stressing the cooperation among the farm women in their working together to promote the Extension program in Hempstead County. Hempstead County also reported the largest delegation attending the State meeting. Lonoke County was second to Hope Friday night.

A Death Every 15 Minutes During Holiday

By the Associated Press
Traffic deaths were occurring at the rate of one about every 13 minutes as the nation celebrates the last holiday weekend of the summer, but that is slightly less than the average expected.

The national safety council had predicted the death rate would be at the rate of one about every 15 minutes, or a total of 435 for the three-day weekend.

In the 50 hours from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Sunday, the highway fatalities had climbed to 259. But the heaviest traffic jam of the three-day period probably was yet to come.

The peak of travel was expected to be reached late today when the celebrants again pour onto the highways in the homeward mass movement. The safety council predicted that 36,000,000 cars would hit the highways in the three-day period.

Besides the 259 killed in traffic mishaps, 39 others had died in miscellaneous accidents, and 84 persons had drowned.

The death toll by states with traffic, drownings and miscellaneous listed in that order:

Alabama 14-0; Arizona 5-0; Arkansas 5-0; California 20-3-2; Colorado 1-1-2; Florida 302; Georgia 30-6; Idaho 2-0-0; Illinois 11-21; Indiana 13-0-1; Iowa 4-10; Kansas 1-0; Kentucky 140-0; Louisiana 5-1-0; Maryland 4-2-0; Massachusetts 1-0-0; Michigan 12-1-1; Minnesota 7-0-1; Mississippi 40-0; Montana 1-1-0; Nebraska 4-0.

Crete Romeo Ends Up Behind Bars

Athens, Sept. 4 — (AP) — Crete's modern Romeo languished behind bars today as his sultry-eyed Juliet took refuge with her in-laws.

The government's arrest action revived threats of bloody fighting on the little Mediterranean isle and promised a national political squabble.

The bridegroom, Constantine (Costa) Kephaliannis, was jailed yesterday by Athens police. They charged him with abducting his 20-year-old bride, Tassoula Petracocgeorgi.

The young couple repeated their vows Friday in a remote monastery atop Crete's legendary Mount Ida. The marriage occurred 11 days after Constantine abducted the girl in a public square in Herakleion and took her into hiding on the mountain.

Tassoula fled with her new brother-in-law and her husband's uncle to the latter's home.

Leaders of the Populist (Royalist) party, to which Constantine's family belongs, charged that the bridegroom's arrest reflected too stable government. Tassoula's mother Sophocles Venizelos' none too stable government. Tassoula's father, George Petracocgeorgi, is a Liberal member of parliament.

The Populists point out that Constantine had been promised safe conduct when he brought his bride down from Crete's mountains and came to Athens.

Populist leader Constantine Teodaris declared the arrest compromises the government and Archishop Spyridon of the Greek Orthodox church, under whose protection the bridegroom was supposed to be placed.

The FORMER MISS FREY

By Edwin Ruff

Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

A gentleman was bending over the young woman, holding a match to her cigarette.

THE garden was completely shut in, on three sides by walls of white limestone, on the fourth by the low, sprawling, comfortable house itself.

Gilbert Summerfield was giving a party. And the party was quiet and opulent, restrained almost to the point of decadence, as all of Gilbert Summerfield's parties were.

The guitars of the half-dozen musicians, unobtrusively ranged at one end of the garden, throbbed quietly, so that a suggestion, rather than a blaze of music, hung in the cool, sweet air.

Gil Summerfield, in a yellow linen coat perfectly cut to his tall figure, moved among his guests, the little half-tolerant, half-cynical smile on his lips. He walked with a slight, barely-perceptible limp of which he appeared completely unconscious. He had very black hair, faintly-smiling black eyes and a long wiry body. There was a suggestion of steely strength about his arms and shoulders. His fingers were brown and strong, the first two of the right hand stained yellow from his eternal cigarettes.

Besides the 259 killed in traffic mishaps, 39 others had died in miscellaneous accidents, and 84 persons had drowned.

The death toll by states with traffic, drownings and miscellaneous listed in that order:

Alabama 14-0; Arizona 5-0; Arkansas 5-0; California 20-3-2;

Colorado 1-1-2; Florida 302; Georgia 30-6; Idaho 2-0-0; Illinois 11-21; Indiana 13-0-1; Iowa 4-10;

Kansas 1-0; Kentucky 140-0;

Louisiana 5-1-0; Maryland 4-2-0;

Massachusetts 1-0-0; Michigan 12-1-1; Minnesota 7-0-1; Mississippi 40-0; Montana 1-1-0; Nebraska 4-0.

New Hampshire 1-1-0; New Jersey 7-2-0; New Mexico 0-1-0; New York 14-2-3; North Carolina 102-0;

AS he passed the corner where old Mrs. Delavan was holding court, she put out a hand. The thin hand, heavy with old-fashioned rings, closed with a kind of possessiveness over Gil's wrist. Ancient, shrewd, acid-tongued Margaret Delavan was very fond of Gilbert Summerfield.

Gil dropped down on the grass beside her chair. "Getting enough to drink, Delly?" he inquired.

"I get enough," Mrs. Delavan said comfortably, "or I raise the roof. I'll say this for you and your parties, though Gil Summerfield. You have dinner late enough. It's midnight now."

"We started at 10 o'clock, Delly," Gil pointed out.

"Bah! I don't believe in turning night into day. But that's what a place like this does for you." She waved a jeweled hand to indicate Bermuda. "How long have you been here now, Gilbert?"

"Three years now. I've had this house for two and a half."

"A Nepenthe of wastrels. Look at 'em lying all around."

Mrs. Delavan's keen eyes were traveling over the guests. Suddenly she pointed. Mrs. Delavan, by birth, breeding and character, was one who could point and get away with it.

"Isn't that Ede Frey over there?" she asked.

Summerfield followed her finger. Reclining in a glider across the garden was a tall young woman in a white chiffon evening gown. Her hair was the color of pale bronze and the slight wind blew wisps of it around the narrow suntanned oval of her face. She had a good straight nose, high cheekbones and a wide scarlet mouth. The chin below the mouth was pointed and delicate.

OU Board Chills State Democrats

Norman, Okla., Sept. 4 — (UPI) — The University of Oklahoma board of regents has chilled state Democrats' plans to peddle politics on radio broadcasts of university football games this fall.

The regents held a telephone conference yesterday, and Dr. George L. Cross, university president, said afterwards that "broadcasts of university activities under political sponsorship will not be permitted." The university must approve the sponsor.

That is the latest word on an Oklahoma political storm which broke Saturday. The Democrats announced a contract had been signed with radio station KOMA of Oklahoma City to sponsor all broadcasts of Sooner football games until Nov. 7.

Pete White, the Tulsa advertising agency official who contracted the radio time for the Democrats noted after Nov. 7, "the political season will be over."

Democratic party officials announced no plans immediately on learning of the regents action. State party Chairman Jim Arrington and Johnston Murray, the gubernatorial nominee, are in Washington.

State GOP Chairman Floyd Carter said Republicans will demand "equal time on the air" if the broadcasts are permitted and will protect "all the way to the federal communications commission if necessary."

Promotion Manager Ben Holmes of KOMA said a full hearing with university officials may be arranged for tomorrow.

Arrington said the Democrats

Opposition to Johnson Is Bitter

Washington, Sept. 4 — (UPI) — Criticism of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson reached a new note of bitterness today with a congressman saying he understands Johnson helped kick James Forrestal out of office.

Forrestal, Johnson's predecessor as defense secretary, resigned in March 1949 due to illness and an extreme nervous condition. Two months later Forrestal in another letter to Johnson urged him to quit. There was no immediate comment from Johnson. Tauriello's first bid a week ago for Johnson to step out brought a report from Johnson that he had hoped Johnson would have the "humility and patriotism to strengthen your country by resigning" and said further:

"I am informed by reliable officials and newspaper correspondents that you contributed in no small way to the persecution of Mr. Forrestal. I understand you gathered and relayed gossip and information critical of Mr. Forrestal, and, in effect, forced his resignation."

also are trying to sponsor broadcasts of Oklahoma A & M grid.

Francis C. Hood, 4419 Wabash, Kansas City, Mo., says that HADACOL has done so much for him in giving him the pep and vitality he now has because he found out his system was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron, that he wants to fill his pick-up truck full of HADACOL and give it to sick folks — so they, too, can be put on the road to feeling better.

This is Mr. Hood's statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I was very nervous and sleepless all the time. Seems like no matter how much sleep I tried to get, it didn't work — I would just toss and turn all night. Then in the daytime I would be groggy and sleepy — I just felt miserable all the time. It really got me down — I was beside myself in knowing just what to do. Then one day I heard how HADACOL had helped many other sick folks."

"Now after taking 8 bottles of HADACOL I get a wonderful night's sleep and never wake up once during the night. I'm not a bit nervous any more either. In fact, right now I feel better than I have ever felt in my life, thanks to HADACOL."

Yes, HADACOL Does Help

thousands and thousands of fine folks who are suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron. HADACOL is wonderful in the way it builds up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and every part of your body — to the heart, liver, kidneys, and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails. Today, even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients.

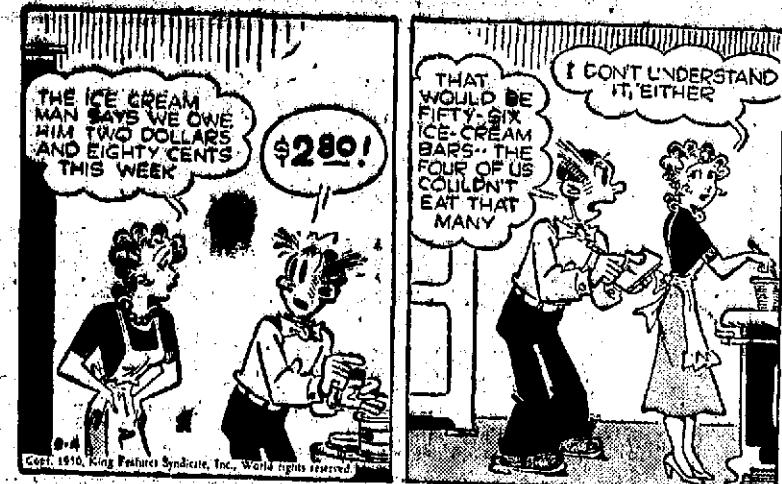

You Owe It To Yourself

to give HADACOL a chance. Refuse substitutes, don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold only on strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial size only $1.25. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

Passengers Devise Own Rescue

Seattle, Sept. 4 — (P) — A quickly-made blinker signal sped the rescue early today of an excursion boat and its 300 passengers.

The 120-ton Virginia V was stranded and blacked out in Puget Sound after a boiler tube blew out, cutting off all power.

The vessel was towed into Lake Union and berthed safely 2 1/2 hours after it blinked its first call for aid. It broke down 10 miles north of Seattle.

None of its passengers was injured.

Two Seattle young men, who had learned blinker signaling in the U.S. Navy, quickly improvised a blinker light and attracted the fishing boat, Marpet. They are Jim Murphy and Jack Giorgiotti, who were passengers on the Virginia V.

Another passenger, Frank Bozarth, Seattle, went aboard the Marpet and radioed for aid.

Early reports had the veteran Puget Sound ship drifting and listing heavily. But Capt. James Hennings, skipper of the Foss Launch and Tugboat Co. Tug 18, said only a slight list was apparent when his crew put a line aboard. The Virginia V's engines were not operating.

All of the passengers, en route back from a day's outing in the San Juan Islands, were reported in "high spirits."

The initial alarm, received by the marine telephone operator and relayed to the coast guard, sent more than a half dozen coast guard craft and auxiliary vessels into action.
